

THE TIGER MOTH REVIEW X THRIVE HOUR

© ETHAN LEONG

ECO-POETRY READING

with Esther Vincent

Awaken your creativity: Spend the morning appreciating nature with eco poems from The Tiger Moth Review

Session #1: 13 May 2020, 10.30 – 11.00 AM

Eco-poetry Reading List:

1. “Eagle Poem” by Joy Harjo (Poetry Moves, p. 120)
2. “Tree” by Lee Soo Jin (The Tiger Moth Review, Issue 3, p. 19), Korea-Singapore
3. “I Tell The River That I Shall Pray Again” by Vinita Agrawal (The Tiger Moth Review, Issue 2, p. 45), India
4. “The Climb” by Ray DiZazzo (The Tiger Moth Review, Issue 2, p. 31), USA
5. “The Four Seasons” by Thomas Bacon (The Tiger Moth Review, Issue 4, p. 54-5), Alaska, USA

The Tiger Moth Review is an independent eco-journal based in Singapore, that publishes poetry, prose, art and photography engaging with the themes of nature, culture, the environment and ecology. Our latest issue can be read here. Find out more about the journal here.

Poetry Moves is an anthology of poetry published by Ethos Books, Singapore, that “encourages the comparative reading of poetry from Singapore and around the globe, for it is only in understanding others that one begins to understand self and the world”.